WILLIAM M. JENNINGS, 1920-1981

Sports Leaders Pay Tribute To Bill Jennings

The world of hockey, in general, and the world of the New York Rangers, in particular, suffered a major loss with the passing of William M. Jennings on August 17, 1981.

Hockey and the Rangers were Bill's first love. He served as president and governor of the Rangers for 19 years, starting in 1962. He was elected to the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto in 1976 and the United States Hockey Hall of Fame in 1981.

In 1971, Bill received the Lester Patrick Award (an honor he conceived and developed in 1966) for "outstanding service to hockey in the United States." He served as chairman of the National Hockey League's Board of Governors from 1968 to 1970, and was an architect of the NHL's dramatic expansion from six original teams to the current 21 clubs, including 14 in the United States.

Leaders from throughout the world of sports paid tribute to Bill Jennings, some of the tributes being reprinted below. In addition, there were three prominent eulogists at the memorial service for Bill, Cyrus Vance, former Secretary of State; Emile Francis, President and General Manager of the St. Louis Blues; and John F. McGillicuddy, Chairman and President, Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company.

"Bill Jennings was one of the finest gentlemen I have ever known, competent and dedicated to hockey. He was one of the prime movers in the NHL and will always be remembered for his contributions to the development of hockey in the United States."

—David A. (Sonny) Werblin
President & Chief Executive Officer
Madison Square Garden Corporation

"The game of hockey has lost one of its greatest friends and contributors. Bill's intellect, common sense, and vision contributed greatly to the NHL's development over the last 20 years. As Chairman of the League's Board of Governors from 1968 to 1970, he, perhaps more than any one individual, was responsible for the NHL's growth from four to 14 teams in the United States since 1967. His dedication to the game and to the NHL is legendary; his dedication to the Rangers was unparalleled. His wisdom and advice were invaluable to me as President of the NHL."

—John A. Ziegler, Jr.
President
Natonal Hockey League

"Bill Jennings was, first and foremost, a friend—a friend to me, to the game, and to the National Hockey League. His service to the game, as Chairman of the League, Chairman of many of its committees, especially expansion and television, and his long presidency of the Rangers ensure that the name of Jennings will forever be counted alongside the Norrises, Adamses, Smythes, Patricks, and Campbells as one of the great builders of the game and the NHL. We will all miss him greatly."

—William W. Wirtz
President
Chicago Black Hawks

"Mere words cannot evaluate adequately the full significance of Bill Jennings' tremendous contributions to hockey and the NHL. His departure leaves an enormous void in the roster of the game's builders. I am grateful for the 25 years of association and friendship I was privileged to share with him."

—Clarence S. Campbell
Past President
National Hockey League

"I have lost a good friend. His knowledge of the game and the business of the League is unequalled. His willingness to give of himself to advance the game and the NHL will long be remembered. The NHL and the game of hockey will be forever indebted to Bill Jennings."

—Bruce A. Norris
Chairman and President
Detroit Red Wings

A Brief History Of The New York Rangers

The Rangers' Official Emblem

By JOHN HALLIGAN

One of the proudest and most historic franchises in the National Hockey League. That's the New York Rangers, who are embarking on their 56th season of National Hockey League play in 1981-82.

In the last few seasons, the Rangers have been able to recapture much of the glamour and glitter that marked their early years, a trend which clearly will continue this season.

Back in the 1920s and 1930s, the Rangers were known as "the classiest team in hockey," and the description was certainly an accurate one. In fact, few sporting teams have come into existence with such a wave of success.

Under the astute managership and coaching of Lester Patrick, hockey's famed "Silver Fox," the Rangers were nearly unbeatable in those early years.

Actually, the birth of the Rangers was something of a team effort that involved Patrick, Madison Square Garden fight promoter Tex Rickard and Conn Smythe, then a successful hockey man in Toronto.

Rickard had become fascinated with hockey, and was convinced the game would be enthusiastically supported in the Garden, the world's premier sports arena that had opened its doors just a year earlier.

The team was jocularly called "Tex's Rangers," and the latter part of the name stuck.

Soon after the puck got rolling in New York, Smythe resigned, and was quickly replaced by Patrick, the widely known hockey promoter and innovator who came to New York from the defunct Pacific Coast Hockey Association.

Patrick, whose grandson, Craig Patrick, is general manager for the current Rangers, worked his magic from the very start. The Rangers were an instant smash, both on the ice and at the box office, as New Yorkers immediately took to hockey. Ranger games were the place to be in those days, and the club attracted a formal, "dinner-jacket" crowd to the games, which began at 8:45 P.M. The fans were headed by no less a personage than the Mayor of New York himself, the Honorable Jimmy Walker.

In their first 16 seasons, the Rangers missed the playoffs only once, and only twice did they fall lower than third place. New York won three regular-season championships in that span, finished second five times and third on six other occasions. They also won three Stanley Cups.

In short, the Rangers built an empire, and New Yorkers loved every minute of it.

The Original Rangers were led by the Cook brothers, Bill and Bun, and Frank Boucher, who won the Lady Byng Trophy so many times the league finally gave it to him permanently. Among the "originals", Bill Cook, Boucher, and colorful defenseman Ching Johnson all made it to the Hockey Hall of Fame.

As the "originals" started to fade out, they were replaced by another stellar group of Ranger stars. Boucher was now coaching the club, while Lester Patrick concentrated on the managerial chores.

Once again, New Yorkers had a brother combination to cheer for. This time it was Neil and Mac Colville, and Alex Shibicky was their linemate. High-scoring Bryan Hextall, fiery Phil Watson, the Patrick brothers, Lynn and Muzz, goalie Dave Kerr, and defensemen Babe Pratt and Art Coulter were all stalwarts of that era.

World War II broke up the gang of Ranger All-Stars, but despite the fall in the team's fortunes after the war, there were still many individual stars on Broadway. Chuck Rayner, Buddy O'Connor, Edgar Laprade, Hy Buller, and Bones Raleigh were standouts in the late Forties and early Fifties.

The arrival of Andy Bathgate in New York signalled another era in Ranger history. Bathgate, twice a first team All-Star, and then the holder of most Ranger scoring records, was the Rangers' superstar for almost a decade. Little Camille Henry, goalie Gump Worsley, Harry Howell, and Dean Prentice were other fans' favorites.

Some 10 years later, another star right wing heralded the Rangers' newest era. Rod Gilbert eventually eclipsed all of Bathgate's scoring records with the club, and played a decade and a half of stellar hockey in New York.

Other stars of that era included Gilbert's linemates, Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfield, goalie Ed Giacomin, defenseman Brad Park, and center Walt Tkaczuk.

The arrival of Craig Patrick in 1980, and the subsequent signing of Herb Brooks as coach, marks the Rangers' latest era, one that hopefully will mirror the successes of earlier days.

A return to tradition, plus the addition of new stars such as Anders Hedberg, Ulf Nilsson, Barry Beck, John Davidson, Ron Greschner, Ron Duguay, and the Maloney brothers, Dave and Don, already have the Ranger fans thinking of another Stanley Cup.

And who could blame them?

The NHL's New Look For 1981-82

The National Hockey League has a new look for the 1981-82 season, the 65th regular season schedule in the league's history. There are changes in terms of re-alignment and in terms of scheduling. Here is the lineup for 1981-82:

CLARENCE CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

Smythe Division

Calgary Flames
Colorado Rockies
Edmonton Oilers
Los Angeles Kings
Vancouver Canucks

Norris Division

Chicago Black Hawks
Detroit Red Wings
Minnesota North Stars
St. Louis Blues
Toronto Maple Leafs
Winnipeg Jets

PRINCE OF WALES CONFERENCE

Patrick Division

New York Islanders
New York Rangers
Philadelphia Flyers
Pittsburgh Penguins
Washington Capitals

Adams Division

Boston Bruins
Buffalo Sabres
Hartford Whalers
Montreal Canadiens
Quebec Nordiques

UNBALANCED SCHEDULE:

Each of the 21 teams is playing an 80-game schedule with those teams in the Smythe, Patrick and Adams Division having eight games (four home, four away) against each of their divisional opponents, plus three games against each of the remaining 16 teams in the league. In the case of the three games against the remaining clubs, teams play two home, one away or vice-versa, alternating the extra home game each year.

The six clubs in the Norris Division—Chicago, Detroit, Minnesota, St. Louis, Toronto and Winnipeg—play each other seven times with three games against each of the remaining 15 teams. The home-ice differential will be alternated each season.

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFFS:

At the conclusion of the regular schedule, the top four finishers in each of the divisions qualify for the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

The preliminary round features divisional playoffs that will have the first place club oppose the fourth-place team and second versus third in a best-of-five series. The winners of each series will remain in the division and play a best-of-seven quarter-final round with the team gaining higher standing during the regular-season holding home-ice advantage.

The four divisional winners will meet in a best-of-seven semi-final round. The Smythe Division winner will face the Norris Division champion, while the Patrick Division victor will oppose the Adams Division winner. The conference winners will meet in a best-of-seven series for the Stanley Cup.

Home-ice advantage for the semi-final and final rounds will be alternated each season according to division and conference, with the Norris and Patrick Divisions and the Wales Conference having the initial advantage as the results of a coin toss.

OUTLOOK FOR 1981-82:

Based upon last season's results, fans around the NHL can look forward to heated divisional races and intense rivalries.

The top four finishers in the over-all points race are in different divisions with the New York Islanders in the Patrick Division, St. Louis Blues in the Norris Division, Montreal Canadiens in the Adams Division and the Los Angeles Kings in the Smythe Division.

The Prince of Wales Conference features the defending Stanley Cup champion Islanders and some of the top rivalries in professional sport with the Canadiens and Quebec Nordiques in the Adams Division and the Islanders and Rangers in the Patrick Division.

Follow The Rangers on Radio, TV

Once again this season, Ranger fans will be able to watch or listen to all 80 regular-season games, primarily on WOR-TV (Channel 9) or WNEW Radio (1130-AM). The WOR-TV schedule covers some 31 Ranger road games. In addition, all home games will be carried on the Madison Square Garden Network.

All 40 home games, plus nine road contests are scheduled for radio. Four road games against the New York Islanders (Oct. 17, Nov. 21, Jan. 23, and Mar. 6) can be heard on WMCA Radio (570-AM). All the others will be aired on WNEW.

Jim Gordon handles the play-by-play call on television, with recently-retired superstar Phil Esposito joining Mike Eruzione to handle the analysts' chores. In addition, Bill Chadwick will handle special television features. Marv Albert is the radio play by play voice of the Rangers, while Sal Messina handles the color commentary.
